

YOU GIVE EVERYTHING TO ENSURE YOUR IDEAS ARE HEARD.

As a Global Player in the medical technology industry with more than 2300 employees, 24 subsidiaries and numerous distribution partners, we are present in more than 100 countries. Greiner Bio-One feels like home. For visionaries with drive and ideas, for team players who share their knowledge and entertain new ways of thinking, for people who are able to laugh at themselves and are proud to make a difference through their work. We have the future in our blood.

INTERNATIONAL HR DEVELOPMENT EXPERT (ALL GENDERS)

Greiner Bio-One International GmbH, AT - Kremsmünster / Fulltime / as soon as possible

Your Responsibilities

Reporting to the Director of Global Human Resources Management you are participating in the development, implementation, and administration of various strategic, international HR processes:

- Staffing: Supporting international staffing projects of management positions and international key positions
- Training: Developing and implementing international training & development programs and an international trainee program
- Performance Management: Performing and developing our international talent and succession management process
- Implementing and further developing international HR projects and processes eg. employer branding, competency management, global employee survey
- Organize international HR meetings and support collaboration within the international HR community

Your Profile

You are an open minded and communicative personality with a supportive mentality, a willingness to take ownership and an interest in different cultures. Your proactive, independent and structured working approach as well as your hands-on mentality distinguishes you and supports your high degree of flexibility. Your profile is composed of:

- University degree in a relevant field (e.g. economics, social sciences, psychology or other) or an equivalent professional qualification
- 3 – 5 years of professional experience in recruiting, training and development, ideally in an international environment
- Good project management skills, skills in facilitation, coaching and training are an advantage
- Good IT user skills (MS-Office)
- Excellent in English and German (written and spoken)

Our Benefits

For this exciting and varied position, we are offering an attractive compensation package with comprehensive social benefits and a flexible work organization (eg up to 50% Home Office). Reflecting your qualifications and experience as well as your individual performance, this lies in excess of the statutory minimum of EUR 2.696,88 as required by the collective agreement (which we must list for legal reasons). In our search for achievers, doers and hidden talents the ongoing development of our employees is just as important as attractive career opportunities within the company.

Corinna
Mitterschiffthaler

+43 7583 67911406

<https://www.gbo.com>